Beat the dealer (1966 edition) | Open Library

Every player knows they need to get to 21 to beat the dealer. However, many players don't understand the terms used beyond hitting to get another card or staying to end their term. Before you play, know about asking to double down, split your hand, or surrender your hand so you can incorporate these into your betting strategies and give yourself the best chance of winning. [1]

Edward O. Thorp - Wikipedia

Players who are new to Blackjack often think that the object of the game is to get a points total as close to twenty one as possible. It isn't. Thinking like this has led many an unsuspecting gambler into losing their entire bankroll. The simple fact is that the object of Blackjack is not to get twenty one, but to beat the dealer - and you can do this with a points total of nineteen, fifteen or even twelve.

How to win at Blackjack - and why most players don't!

Usually in blackjack, the dealer must hit on 16 and stand on 17. These rules are slightly different for other variations of twenty-one. So generally, the odds of the dealer's final score being 16 are 0% because he must hit. This table will show the probability of the dealer busting or getting a non-bust hand as well as natural blackjacks.
