The story tells about a girl that was happy and lived with her parents till her mother was dead. Her father had to marry to get a woman to take care of her daughter. He married a woman who had two daughters. They dealt her very bad. The woman was a member of a gang who searched for an apparatus which converted lead into gold. At once, when the girl was put into dark and bad room, a ghost came and saved her. The gang stole the apparatus from the monuments' store. The Egyptian's police knew. The police chased the gang. But the police was surrounded by the gang. the lead was converted into gold at the sphinx area. The gang was ready to escape, but they failed.

Soliloquy with the Ghosts in Nile explores the role of silence in a time of war. The war Hussain Ahmed accounts here is both physical and psychological, and the survivor within these poems uses his voice as a way to tell the stories of those who were lost. The experimental poems track grief as it extends from the personal "I" to a larger community that grapples to find connections with places that are no longer in existence. These are poems that must resist the danger of fear in order to ensure that the victims are not forgotten, resulting in a powerful result is a collection of survival stories that insist on being told.

1550 BCE This is a lightly re-edited re-release of PRIESTESS OF THE NILE. No new material has been added. Drawn to his abandoned temple on the banks of the Nile one evening by the notes of a half forgotten, sacred song, Sobek the Crocodile God is unable to resist Merys, the beautiful singer who innocently summons him. Appearing to her as a man and concealing his true identity, he's captivated by this descendant of his last priestess. Treated by her family as a servant, denied a dowry and with no prospects for anything but a life of drudgery, Merys is happy to steal away to spend time with the handsome stranger. Their mutual attraction burns hot but Sobek is forbidden to pursue a human woman and can offer Merys nothing beyond a few hours snatched from his duties tending the Nile. Then Egypt's enemies attack the peaceful village. Can the love between Merys and the Crocodile God survive the ultimate test of the gods? A 21,000 word novella of ancient Egypt... Suggested reading order for the Gods of Egypt series (although the books can be read standalone): PRIESTESS OF THE NILE WARRIOR OF THE NILE DANCER OF THE NILE MAGIC OF THE NILE (a sequel to PRIESTESS) GHOST OF THE NILE HEALER OF THE NILE LADY OF THE NILE SONG OF THE NILE (a sequel to LADY)

1550 BCE Nima, formerly a tavern dancer in the land of the Nile, has settled into the leisurely life of her dreams as the pampered, beloved wife to a high ranking general who's also a member of Pharaoh's court. She's sworn never to dance for anyone else but Kamin, the man she loves. All is fine until one day news arrives that her husband has been killed in a chariot accident while on a trip to a remote city on Pharaoh's behalf. But as a reward for their previous service to Egypt against a dangerous enemy, the gods had promised Nima and Kamin they'd die at the same moment...so if she still lives, so must he. Why is the ruler of the city lying to Pharaoh about Kamin's death? What is the woman covering up? And where is Kamin? Time for Nima the elegant lady to vanish from Thebes and Nima the skilled dancer to make her way in disguise to the far distant province and fight for Kamin's life. She'll have to deal with angry gods, black magic, an enemy prince and a deadly ghost along the way. Nima is the only one who can rescue her beloved from the dark fate planned for him by Egypt's enemies... NOTE: Most of the books are standalone stories revolving around the court of my fictional Pharaoh. Return of the Dancer of the Nile can be read without massive spoilers for Dancer of the Nile, however, here's the suggested reading order for the Gods of Egypt series, based on the general flow over time in my Pharaoh's reign:: Priestess of the Nile Warrior of the Nile Dancer of the Nile Magic of the Nile (which is the direct sequel to Priestess) Ghost of the Nile Healer of the Nile Lady of the Nile Song of the Nile (which is the direct sequel to Lady) Return of the Dancer of the Nile (direct sequel to Dancer)

This is a lightly re-edited version of the previously released novel. No new scenes were added. Egypt, 1500 BCE Adopted brother to Pharaoh, warrior Khenet is fiercely loyal and willing to undertake any mission, no matter how dangerous. Assigned as the bodyguard to Lady Tiya while she travels down the Nile to an arranged marriage with a provincial ruler, he soon finds himself caught between the gods of Egypt, the black magic of an enemy and undeniable feelings for the lady in question. Chosen by the goddess Nephthys to assist in a scheme to defeat the sorcerer, Tiya knows she's going to die but has been promised immediate entry to the fabled afterlife. During the river voyage, she discovers powerful reasons to regret her choices, including her growing love for Khenet. Life has never seemed so precious and her fate so bitter. Forbidden by the goddess to tell Khenet the truth about his own destined role in the battle against the forces of black magic, Tiya desperately seeks a way to save the man who has come to mean so much to her. Can these two successfully circumvent the goddess's plot while still working to save Egypt from the scheming enemy? Will their love be strong enough to bring them through the danger and let them find a future in this life together? This is a connected series. Warrior of the Nile can be read as a standalone. GODS OF EGYPT SUGGESTED READING ORDER: Priestess of the Nile Warrior of the Nile Dancer of the Nile Magic of the Nile Ghost of the Nile Healer of the Nile Lady of the Nile Song of the Nile Return of Dancer of the Nile

1550 BCE Forced by a vengeful Pharaoh to flee for her life and hide in the poorest section of Thebes, Lady Pematma has scraped and struggled to support her ailing mother and young brother for the past two years. Now, out of funds with the rent to pay and no possessions left to sell, she begs the goddess Hathor for help. With a new pharaoh taking the throne, surely something can be done... A powerful general in command of the army and best friend to Pharaoh, Marnamaret has everything a nobleman in Egypt could desire...except for true love. He refuses to settle for less. On a whim, he prays to

Hathor to send him the woman of his dreams. Will the goddess answer these heartfelt petitions? And if she does, will Shai the god of Fate allow the course of two lives to be changed by love? For none can deny Fate.... Author's Note: This is a connected series. Heiress of the Nile can be read as a standalone. Although it's my newest novel, the story falls between Priestess and Warrior timewise and is set in the early days of this Pharaoh's reign. GODS OF EGYPT SUGGESTED READING ORDER: Priestess of the Nile Heiress of the Nile Warrior of the Nile Dancer of the Nile Magic of the Nile Ghost of the Nile Healer of the Nile Lady of the Nile Song of the Nile Return of Dancer of the Nile
