Over the past 100 years the European Automotive Industry has been repeatedly challenged by best practice. First by the United States, through the development of 'mass production' pioneered by Henry Ford and more

File Type PDF Manual Opel Corsa C Limba Romana

recently by 'lean production techniques' as practised by the leading Japanese producers, particularly Toyota. It has consistently risen to these challenges and has shown it can compete and even outperform its competitors with world-class products. However, the European - dustry is now faced with growing competition and growth from new emerging low-cost countries and needs to re-define its competitive advantage to remain at the forefront of the sector.

Automotive growth is driven by two factors, new markets and new technologies. Global competition is increasing, with technology and product differentiation becoming the

the socio-economic fabric of the European Union.

Manufacturing output represents €700 billion and research and development spending €24 billion.

consistently improve their competitive position to ensure that the industry does not migrate to growing new markets.
