When Swallow, who suffers from debilitating migraines, finishes a stint in drug rehab, her daughter and the rest of her family want nothing more to do with her. She stays with a friend who talks her into joining a drug trial for a new headache medicine. A known side effect of the trial drug is vivid dreams, but Swallow thinks there's more to those dreams, which she calls journeys. She works on reestablishing a relationship with her daughter while journeying to other worlds through a now open doorway in her mind. On journeys, she meets Kai, who guides her through the quirks of many worlds. It's hard enough getting by in the world, especially when your family discarded you, but when you're involved in an almost unlimited number of worlds, isn't it impossible? As Swallow tells her daughter, "Everybody lives in many different worlds, be they private that not even your closest friends and family know about, your home world, your professional world, or others like educational, religious, military, sports, social, or what have you; learn to recognize them. Make sure you control your worlds rather than letting them control you. Sometimes it's easy to drift from one world to another, and sometimes barriers block you or suck you back to where you don't want to be. Look at me with my addiction; it still tries to suck me back into that world. You pick your worlds. Don't just go where the flow pushes you."

This book views Samsung Electronics in terms of corporate life cycle as well as product portfolio and strategy. It also examines the issues Samsung faces as it proceeds further into the 21st century. Written from the perspective of an experienced commentator on Korean and global business, this book presents not simply a narrative or an adulatory and uncritical account of Samsung's rise, but a considered analysis of the secrets of success that both business students and CEOs will want to read and consider applying to their own companies.

What happens when the legacy of a father collides with the dreams of his son? Widow Jeeto Gill has spent her life working hard and making sacrifices for her children. Now she looks forward to going back to her land in the Punjab, eating saag and roti on a verandah and letting her tired eyes rest on green fields. Her son Pal seems to have it all but he's restless. He's got big plans for his Daddy's business and a taste for Johnny Walker Black Label. However his kind-hearted wife Liz has her own ideas about what's best. Meanwhile Pal's sharp-tongued sister Cookie runs the tackiest beauty salon in town and harbours a dark secret. When their cousin's destitute wife, Reema, arrives from back home, the Gills propose to take care of her. Little do they know that her arrival will change the course of their family's destiny forever.
