And it is not that teacher educators don't understand the realities of the 21st-century classroom and need to come down from their ivory tower. It is because training a teacher is viewed (if the AERA volume is accurate in its summation) as "an oversimplification of teaching and learning, ignoring its dynamic, social and moral aspects." This evolution from a training purpose to a preparation purpose started in the 1970s and is described in detail by the AERA volume co-editor and Boston ...
